

TOKIO DISARMING; LEADERS CARRY ON

Defeat of Measure to Curtail Navy Fails to Suppress Anti-Militarists in Diet.

TOKIO, February 10.—Defeat of Yuki Ozaki's resolution proposing curtailment of naval armaments in the house of representatives here today does not end the campaign against military and naval expansion, according to newspaper comment on the situation. The Asahi Shimbun of Osaka declares that Mr. Ozaki's suggestion was "timely," while the Yomiuri Shimbun of this city asserts "an agreement between the powers to limit armaments is obligatory to save Japan from eventual bankruptcy."

Although it was not expected that the resolution would be adopted, and some of his friends advised him against insisting upon a vote, because rejection would be likely to be misinterpreted abroad, Mr. Ozaki requested a division of the house. In an address he warned his countrymen that curtailment of armaments was coming upon the heels of the league of nations, which he was convinced was upon a solid footing.

Should Take Initiative.
"If naval expansion," he declared, "is aimed at America, it is ridiculous and futile, as an examination of the relative strengths of Japan and the United States will demonstrate. Japan should take the initiative in restricting armaments and not follow the example of Germany, which proposes the expansion of armaments results in the growth of socialism and communism."

Etsujiro Uehara, who was educated in the United States and England, supported Mr. Ozaki's resolution, saying its adoption would go far toward disabusing the world of the idea that Japan was militaristic and aggressive.

Formation of an association to support the cause of Toshiro Ogawara, the Japanese sentry who shot and killed Naval Lieut. Langdon of the United States cruiser Albany at Vladivostok late in December, has been decided upon by a group of army reservists here.

Members of the association are descendants of the "Etoikko," the original natives of ancient Tokio, who were renowned for their chivalry. It is urged that a petition be sent to the court-martial which tried Ogawara, asking for his release and declaring that his punishment would destroy military discipline.

NEED TO STANDARDIZE METHODS IN CARE OF SICK

Address by Alexander White of National Organization for Public Health Nursing.

Outlining the purposes of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, Alexander White of New York, financial secretary of that body, addressed a meeting of interested Washingtonians at the home of Mrs. Frederick H. Brooke, 1737 K street, yesterday afternoon.

Mr. White stressed the necessity of a standardization of method, based on cumulative experience, to cope with the need and care of the sick, and for the prevention of epidemics and disease throughout the country, and gave many illustrations to show the beneficial results accomplished by the organization he represents.

"The study of and assistance in establishing standards for all types of nursing service, methods of organization, administration, of financial support and forms of records and reports is absolutely essential for success in modern nursing," he said.

He detailed the history and development of public health nursing, what the national organization has done, emphasized the educational requirements necessary to successful nursing, explained recruiting methods, legislative aims of the association and closed his talk by appealing to those present to interest themselves in securing the quota that has been assigned to this city by the national organization.

Miss Elizabeth Fox of the National Red Cross stated that the National Organization for Public Health Nursing worked hand in hand with a large number of other organizations, especially the Red Cross, which adheres to the methods of work, the standards of nursing and the educational and training requirements established by the national organization.

"This is one of many forms of co-operation whereby the service of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing is made use of and carried to every part of the country," said Miss Fox.

Mrs. Brooke was chosen director for the District of Columbia. Any information desired may be secured by communicating with her.

BOY-ED WEDS AMERICAN GIRL WAR TORE HIM FROM IN 1917

Miss Mackay-Smith and Former German Naval Attache Marry in Hamburg.

Was Suspected of Visiting Fiance in Disguise During War Period.

Capt. Karl Boy-Ed, former German naval attache here, who was recalled by his government at the request of President Wilson, and Miss Virginia Mackay-Smith, prominently known in Washington and Philadelphia, were married yesterday in Hamburg, Germany. The wedding marked the culmination of a romance which has interested two continents.

Capt. Boy-Ed and his bride, who is the daughter of the late Bishop Alexander Mackay-Smith of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Pennsylvania, have been reported engaged a number of times, but each time it was denied. The first report was circulated shortly after the former naval attache and Capt. von Papen were recalled by the German government in connection with having been connected with munitions plots and the sending of munitions to Germany.

Capt. Boy-Ed was reported to have returned to this country in disguise in March, 1917, and to have visited Miss Mackay-Smith at her home in Philadelphia. This, however, was denied by the young woman and her "ridiculous." Agents of the Department of Justice maintained a constant watch at the Mackay-Smith home, but nothing developed to substantiate the report Boy-Ed was there or even in this country.

Capt. Boy-Ed and his bride, left their Washington home last month for Germany, but nothing was said of the approaching wedding at the time.

The bride and her younger sister, Gladys, now Mrs. William Bell Watkins of Philadelphia, both made their debut in Washington prior to their father's appointment as bishop, and after his death returned to Washington, where Mrs. Mackay-Smith still maintains residence at 1225 16th street. An elder sister, the former Miss Helen Mackay-Smith, is Mrs. Lester C. Martlett of this city. The late Bishop Mackay-Smith at one time was rector of St. John's Church here.

COMMITTEE HEADS NAMED. Mrs. Mildred Barnes was selected chairman of the committee on ways and means of the George Bell Parent-Teacher Association at a meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Barnes was named chairman of a committee to improve social surroundings, and Rev. Jones was appointed to head a committee on school activities. C. W. Ziegler presided.

SETTLE FIGHT OVER WILL.

Agreement Reached in Henley-Smith Estate, But Terms Withheld.

The contest over the estate of Mrs. Mary Rebecca Henley-Smith, valued at $300,000, has been settled by a consent verdict by a jury before Justice Bailey, sustaining the last will of Mrs. Henley-Smith. Mrs. Henry H. Flather, a cousin of the deceased, who under the will was entitled only to the income from two-fifths of the estate for life, filed a caveat. A compromise with Mrs. Florence W. Sampson, the other life beneficiary, was reached and under this agreement, Mrs. Flather, through Attorney Frank J. Hogan, consented to the probate of the will.

Attorneys George P. Hoover and John R. Shields, representing Mrs. Sampson, declined to make public the terms of the compromise, but admitted that an agreement had been reached whereby the corpus of the estate will be available at once for the two life beneficiaries.

KRAMER SAYS SCHOOLS NEED VOICE OF PUBLIC

Assistant Superintendent, at City Club, Opposes Limiting Control to Experts.

A calamity would result if the direction of the public schools put under the exclusive control of technical educators, said Stephen E. Kramer, assistant superintendent of public schools, speaking last night before the education group of the City Club.

"The public schools belong to the people," said Mr. Kramer, "and I believe the public should have a very decided voice in determining the kind of education that shall be furnished. I believe in educating the children the way the public wants them educated."

The board of education furnishes a contact between the general public and the trained technical educators at the head of the school system. In my thirty-one years with the public schools of the District I have found that the most valuable members of the board of education usually were men who could not qualify as educational experts. The most valuable members, as a rule, are the men with business experience, good, hard common sense, broad vision and a knowledge of what the community wants.

Mr. Kramer said that the public should take a greater interest in school education, and become more insistent in its demands. E. L. Stock, chairman of the group, who presided, appointed a committee on higher education, composed of Daniel Folkmar, chairman; Dr. C. N. Chipman and Paul E. Lesh.

COMMITTEE HEADS NAMED. Mrs. Mildred Barnes was selected chairman of the committee on ways and means of the George Bell Parent-Teacher Association at a meeting yesterday afternoon.
